Benzoic Acid from Naphthalin.—Benzoic soid, now largely used in several branches of the industrial arts, may be prepared by a new and simple process recently made public by Dr. Vohl. Naphthaline is first shanged into Naphthalic soid by means of sulphuric acid and peroxide of manganess. Naphthalic sold is mixed with a surplus of lime, and exposed to a temperature of from 898 to 690 F. in a perfect vacuum. Henzonte of time is thus formed, and by distilling the lime compound Benzoyl is produced. The best proportions for forming naphthalicacid are 12 parts of pure naphthaline, to parts of common sulphuric soid, and so parts of peroxide of manganess.

Curious Experiments with Projectives.—

CURIOUS EXPERIMENTS WITH PROJECTILES.—

M. Melsen's experiments have excited great interest at the French Academy of Sciences. M. Damas stated that a leaden ball, failing from the hight of about one meler into water, drew with it 20 times its volume of air. The same ball projected by powder to the interior of a verical eviloider filled with water and closed at both ends by means of plaster disphragms, carried with it 100 times its volume of air. When the initial velocity of the ball wassmall, the bole made in the plaster was about the same as the diameter of the ball, but when the velocity was greatly increased, the aire of the hole was excessively large, and a double border was formed around the boles where the ball entered and passed out of the cylinder. The cause of the increase of the size of the hole has not been ascertained. These curious results led Melsens to try the experiment of shooting through a pane of class. He ascertained that contrary to the general belief, a very high velocity of the ball as well as a very low velocity, shattered the glass, while a medium velocity bande a smooth round hole. **GOOD BOOKS FOR ALL."—In noticing, controlling, one or two of our most useful publications, a few years ago, Mr. Greeley pronounced them "Books which are books," implying that they are worth reading. For example, we have the best works on Short hand Writing, the best on Physiognomy, on Dietetics Gymnastic Exercises, Hygiene, Anatomy, Ethnology, Psychology, Phre nology, and a choice selection of Miscellaneous Works, suitable for pres $1-the prettiest and cheapest ever published. Hand Books, How to Write, How to Talk, How to Behave, and How to Do Business-just the thing for boys and young men #2 25. Then we have heantiful Busts of many celebrities, for Libraries, Drawing-rooms, &c. If a copy of THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL were placed within the reach of every family, it would, it is believed, prove most acceptable to every member.

THETIETH THOUSAND.
THE TEMPLE CHOIR, a new collection of sacred and secular music for choirs and singing-schools, by THEO. P. SEWARD, LOW E-L. MASON, and WILLIAM B. BEADBURY, which was first published is Exptember last, has already

REACHED ITS THIRTIETH THOUSAND!

Better evidence of its acceptability to the public—that it pleases them who examine it—could not be allerded. IT IS UNQUESTIONABLY
THE MOST POPULAR MUSIC-BOOK PUBLISHED IN THIS COUNTEY FOR MANY YEARS. THY FOR MANY YRARS.

It contains much new music by its authors, as well as many other of the most popular composers. Rarely has such variety been included in one volume. Its Singing-School Repartment is very full and complete, and it contains a good number of new glose, for choir practice, &c. It is very attractive in its Anthem Department.

We have never published a look which seemed to give more universal satisfaction. MASON SEOTHERS, No. 506 Breadway, New York.

NEW PATENT PIANOS.

RAVEN & BACON, Manufacturers of Piano-Fortes with Patent Combination Sounding Boards. Patented August 14, 1063.

This invention, introduced crelusively into our Pianos, is of the greatest advantage to the tone of the instrument, as it affects the Sounding Board,—the very soul of the Piano—and produces thereby a pure liquid tone,—the very soul of the Piano—and produces thereby a pure liquid tone,—the very soul of the Piano—and produces thereby a pure liquid tone,—the very soul of the Piano—and produces thereby a pure liquid tone preading upon under sounding-boards, is relieved from the rigidity examed by such connection, and its wibratory quality greatly increased. All levents of this eminently household instrument, as well as parties proposing to purchase new Pianos, are invited to call and examine our assortines.
